CITY OF BURIEN
Moshier Art Center Repairs and Improvements, $10,000

The Moshier Art Center completed repairs and improvements to their 55-year-old arts/teaching facility, run by the City of Burien. One of only four high-fire kiln sites in King County, they serve over 200 students a quarter. There are seven studio artists at this time, with complete access to the active facility. Artists pay a monthly rent, and provide the community five service hours a week. Potters also donate bowls for an annual fundraising event, which raised $20,000 for local food banks last year. Ceramic studio classes are the most affordable in the area, and are starting to see participation from a younger audience.

Shoreline Veterans Recognition Plaza © 2017 Eduardo Calderón

CITY OF SHORELINE

Creation of the Shoreline Veterans Recognition Plaza, $20,000

The Shoreline Veterans Recognition Plaza is 32 feet in diameter with bricks bearing names of veterans. It is circled by granite obelisks honoring the seven branches of the military. Completed last year, it has become a popular public gathering space near Shoreline's City Hall.

COYOTE CENTRAL, Seattle

HVAC for Coyote Central, $17,500

Coyote Central provides hands-on, pay-as-you-can arts programs in the Central District. The Building 4Culture funding allowed them to purchase and install an HVAC system to provide ventilation, cooling, and on-demand heating in their main building.

ERITREAN ASSOCIATION IN GREATER SEATTLE, Seattle

Eritrean Community Kitchen, $75,000

The Eritrean Community Center kitchen was expanded and improved to commercial-grade. An outdoor gathering space for cultural celebrations and events was also created.

FREEHOLD THEATRE LAB STUDIO, Seattle

New home for Freehold, $75,000

Freehold Theatre built out a 7,000 square foot venue in the basement of the historic Freedman Building to create a home for their classes and performances. Located on Maynard Ave South, this building had been vacant for 15 years. Now it is a corner that adds vitality to the International District.

Central Shelter at Jimi Hendrix Park © 2017 Eduardo Calderón

FRIENDS OF JIMI HENDRIX PARK, Seattle Central Shelter at Jimi Hendrix Park, $200,000

Friends of Jimi Hendrix Park raised funds to complete and install a shelter structure in the public park adjacent to the Northwest African American Museum. The initial year of events and activities in the space is now in full swing, produced in collaboration with many partner community groups. The shelter will make much more activity in the park possible.

FRIENDS OF KEXP, Seattle KEXP's New Home at the Seattle Center, $1,000,000

KEXP remodeled and outfitted the Northwest Rooms at Seattle Center to serve as their studios, offices, and new performance spaces. This project provides a successful activation of a major west side entrance to the Center and anchor for KEXP's internationally-known broadcasts and programming.

JACK STRAW CULTURAL CENTER, Seattle Accessible Bathrooms and HVAC Overhaul, $68,000

Jack Straw, who serve a wide audience with sound-based programs and studios, replaced four inaccessible bathrooms with ADA accessible gender-neutral bathrooms serving seven organizations, and replaced a failing HVAC system that has outlived its expected service life.

JAMES AND JANIE WASHINGTON FOUNDATION, Seattle Continued Improvements to Physical Plant, $30,000

The James and Janie Washington Foundation made improvements to their house and adjacent studio that preserved and improved upon work already done. They also addressed some new issues, allowing the organization to better fulfill their mission.

KEXP © 2015 Sellen Consturction

KidsQuest Children's Museum © 2017 Eduardo Calderón

KIDSQUEST CHILDREN'S MUSEUM, Bellevue Good to Grow Capital Campaign, $1,000,000

KidsQuest grew out of its previous location as soon as it opened, serving over 300,000 patrons in its first two years. This was almost 240,000 more than the number of visitors they anticipated. The museum purchased the former Rosalie Whyel Museum of Doll Art in April 2014 and opened in 2017. KidsQuest estimates attendance of 240,000 visitors in their first year at the new location, and are offering a 30% increase in programming. KidsQuest creates learning through the power of play and exploration that connects children to their communities and the world.

KIRKLAND ARTS CENTER, Kirkland Capital Improvement Project, $75,000

The Kirkland Arts Center's project addressed critical historic preservation needs of their home, the beautiful 1892 Peter Kirk Building. Phase 3 is now complete; it provided new heating and cooling systems, seismic improvements, and ADA upgrades.

MUSEUM OF HISTORY AND INDUSTRY, Seattle Regional Heritage Collection Preservation Center, $100,000

The Museum of History and Industry's Regional Heritage Collection Preservation Center established museum quality standards for the protection and stewardship of the region's largest collection of artifacts and images. It will enable thoughtful growth of and long-term access to that collection.

DELTA MASONIC TEMPLE INC., Tukwila
Historic Building Restoration, $83,000

The South wall of the Delta Masonic Temple collapsed in June 2013. This project will restore the brick façade of this historic building.

THE GLOBE BUILDING, Seattle
Rehabilitation, $80,500

The Globe Building, in the Pioneer Square historic district, is being restored. This project includes repairs to exterior sandstone, storefronts, windows and doors. Work began in June 2017 and will be completed this year.

KONG YICK INVESTMENT COMPANY INCORPORATED, Seattle
Canton Alley Curbs, $36,937

New curbs will be built on three storefronts in Canton Alley, to prevent water infiltration that is causing damage to floor joists and wood siding. This work was on hold pending repaving of the alleyway, which was completed in June 2017.

RICHMOND MASONIC CENTER ASSOCIATION, Shoreline
Foundation and Kitchen Renovation, $14,000

The Richmond Masonic Center renovations entail essential foundation repair below the kitchen of this Shoreline landmark, which is used by the public and a variety of renters.

SEATTLE CITY LIGHT, Seattle
Georgetown Steam Plant Historic Concrete Restoration, $100,000

Seattle City Light is restoring the concrete exterior of the Georgetown Steam Plant, a National Historic Landmark, starting late this summer.

STEWART (NEILSON) BARN, Carnation
Wayne Gullstead, $ 136,839

The Stewart (Neilson) Barn recently completed the King County historic landmark designation process, enabling them to proceed with their project. Engineering design is nearing completion and construction is expected to move forward soon.

SUNSET GARAGE, North Bend
Exterior Rehabilitation, $62,341

The Sunset Garage's continued rehabilitation consists of the reconstruction of the original storefront and canopy, parapet replacement, and façade repairs.

UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS CENTER for the COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION, Seattle
Renovations to Performance Hall, $ 23,000

The iconic University Heights Center auditorium is being transformed into a community-driven performance hall; the entrance and staircase will be restored. Unexpected code requirements have delayed this project, but a new design is underway and the project is expected to move forward by the end of 2017.

WA SANG FOUNDATION, Seattle
Rex Apartments Exterior Rehabilitation, $62,550

The Rex Apartments is currently undergoing a roof replacement; seismic engineering and bracing was completed in 2016. The owners are also currently reevaluating the condition of the building's windows to determine the level of restoration work required.

ONE CONTRACT HAS NOT BEEN SIGNED:

PRESERVATION:

GOOD GROUND, Fall City
Remlinger Farms Barn improvements, $25,000

The owners of Remlinger Farms were awarded funds for improving their barn, but it is not a designated historic landmark. They have declined to move forward with the award.

PRESERVATION ACTION FUND:

The agreement between Historic Seattle and 4Culture is final, pending Seattle City Council action on an ordinance allowing Historic Seattle to work outside the city. We anticipate Seattle approval will occur by the end of August, 2017, and 4Culture will request funds be transferred once that approval is final.

The oversight group is assembling a short list of potential structures that fit the requirements outlines for the fund, and hope to select an initial project before the end of 2017.
