6. Director's Reportplay video

Ms. Hayes briefed the Board on the Best Starts for Kids Initiative. She met with cities across King County, including Shoreline, Woodinville, Auburn, Kenmore, Bothell and Renton to inform and engage communities. A complete briefing on the Best Starts for Kids Initiative will be presented at an upcoming Board of Health meeting.

Ms. Hayes reported that the World Health Organization recently declared the Ebola outbreak in Liberia over, but still an issue in the West African countries of Sierra Leone and Guinea. She stated that 27,000 people have been stricken with Ebola since the epidemic began last year and 11,000 have died. Locally, 11 people who have been to those countries are still being monitored. Cumulatively, we have monitored 137 travelers, including health care workers.

Ms. Hayes complimented Dr. Jeff Duchin, the Tuberculosis (TB) Control Program and the Communicable Disease staff for their work in handling two cases of TB at Mount Rainier High School. With the help of Public Health Reserve Corps Volunteers and the Snohomish County Health Department 1,200 people were tested in a short period of time.

Ms. Hayes reported that staff from the National Association of County and City Health Officials will be visiting King County Public Health Department to learn about transformation work. King County Public Health was selected as one of a few health departments across the country for this visit.
