BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF KING COUNTY:

SECTION 1. Findings:

A. The public interest, welfare and benefit require that the county utilizes all appropriate and available national, state and local resources to aid the poor and infirm of King County. Chief among the needs for very low, low- and moderate-income households, elderly, and disabled persons is suitable and affordable housing. Local government involvement ensuring construction of housing for very low, low-, moderate- and median-income households is needed in the current and foreseeable future of the housing market in King County. It is necessary to develop a variety of tools, incentives, and mechanisms to generate and provide funding for workforce housing.

B. A component of housing price is the cost of financing the construction of the housing and the required repayment of short and long-term loans from private and public resources. The interest rate associated with loans for any project can greatly affect the overall cost of the housing.

C. Article VIII, Section 7 of the Washington State Constitution allows the county to give money, or property, or loan its money, or credit to or in aid of any individual association, company or corporation when it is for the necessary support of the poor or infirm.

D. King County, in 1995, successfully entered into a contingent loan agreement with the King County Housing Authority, thereby funding an additional nine units of housing affordable to very low-income households.

E. In 1997, Ordinance 12808 established a credit enhancement program and directed the executive to prepare guidelines for program administration.

F. The 1997 credit enhancement program provided that the total amount of outstanding project debt benefitting from the credit enhancement from King County shall not exceed two hundred million dollars.

G. Since implementation of the program, nineteen developments comprised of over two thousand one hundred units have been assisted under the program, sixteen of which are owned by the King County Housing Authority.

H. In order to further facilitate additional funding for affordable housing, the total amount of outstanding project debt benefitting from the credit enhancement from King County should be increased by an additional two hundred million dollars as specified in this ordinance.

I. The King County Housing Authority credit enhancement program established by this ordinance is expected to add approximately two thousand two hundred units of rental housing to the workforce housing stock aiding the poor and infirm of King County, by allowing the King County Housing Authority to readily access municipal credit markets at the lowest available interest rates in order to move quickly to secure long term rental affordability in multiple properties.

SECTION 2. Ordinance 12808, Section 2, as amended, and K.C.C. 24.28.010 are hereby amended to read as follows:

A. The executive is hereby authorized to implement a project-based credit enhancement program utilizing the county's full faith, credit and resources to make available credit enhancements for workforce housing assisting the poor and infirm. The executive is further authorized to enter contingent loan agreements with housing developers (~~((provided))~~), though the total amount of outstanding debt benefiting from a project-based credit enhancement from King County through this program shall not exceed two hundred million dollars. The project-based credit enhancement program and its associated contingent loan agreements shall adhere to the parameters (~~((defined))~~) in K.C.C. 24.28.020.

SECTION 3. Ordinance 12808, Section 3, as amended, and K.C.C. 24.28.020 are hereby amended to read as follows:

A. The credit enhancement program will add to the stock of workforce housing aiding the poor and infirm of King County. The program is intended to create an incentive to develop new types of housing, increased affordability for residents, and realization of multiple growth management goals. Extension of credit enhancements to housing developers to secure favorable financing terms for housing projects shall result in tangible benefits to the direct beneficiaries ~~((f)), who are~~ poor and infirm residents of the proposed housing~~((f))~~, and other public benefits, as appropriate. Credit enhancements may be utilized when utilized for one or more of the following:

1. ~~((e))~~Enabling the development of needed housing that would not otherwise have been built were the credit enhancement unavailable; ~~((and/or))~~
2. ~~((i))~~Increasing the affordability of individual units that are targeted for lower income households within workforce housing projects; ~~((or))~~ and
3. ~~((p))~~Providing a payment to King County in lieu of additional project affordability for the purpose of developing affordable housing at another location.

B. Eligible applicants may include public housing authorities, ~~((non-profit))~~ nonprofit organizations, for-profit organizations, local governments, public agencies~~((s))~~ and public development authorities.

C. Eligible beneficiaries must be the poor and infirm of King County. These persons are commonly recognized as households earning eighty percent or less of the county median income and persons or households with special needs.

D. Credit enhancements are to be used to assist the development of mixed-income projects that add to the stock of workforce housing units in King County, including homeownership opportunities for eligible beneficiaries. Owned housing must remain affordable for subsequent buyers who are eligible beneficiaries or upon resale to an ineligible buyer the county shall recapture the subsidy provided by the credit enhancement. Rental projects must guarantee long term affordability to eligible beneficiaries. Eligible activities shall include new construction and acquisition and/or rehabilitation of existing housing when the final product will yield additional workforce housing units.

E. Projects assisted through the credit enhancement program must be located in urban centers or within close proximity to transit hubs or corridors. Projects proposed to be sited elsewhere may be considered when there are unique opportunities to aid eligible beneficiaries. These projects shall nevertheless demonstrate access to employment, transportation and human services, and adequate infrastructure to support housing development.

F. Applications for credit enhancements should be accepted year round to accommodate timely approval of final financial arrangements for projects. Proposed projects must detail the financial benefit of the credit enhancement over the life of the project and how that benefit will be realized by eligible beneficiaries residing in the project.

G. All projects shall undergo rigorous internal county staff (housing and community development, finance and prosecuting attorney) review and underwriting for financial, legal and policy compliance. In addition, projects shall undergo external underwriting by the county's economic development consultant and bond counsel when merited. H. Projects shall conform with applicable county requirements for contracting services.

I. All contingent loan agreements resulting in a credit enhancement for a project shall be structured to minimize the county's financial risk and shall ensure the county's right to review all project records and direct corrective measures deemed necessary to prevent financial instability, material or technical default.
